Respectful Advocacy

As a division we appreciate the immense community support that we have received recognizing that space concerns be addressed in Morden.

It has come to our attention, however, that in an effort to advocate, some members of the community have engaged in activities that have crossed a line in being respectful. Western School Division does not support or condone behaviours that attack an individual personally. We do not feel such behaviour or views are representative of our community as a whole.

We strongly encourage persons wanting to engage in advocacy efforts to follow Chair Fransen’s advice:

“We do ask that communication with government officials be respectful. The mission of Western School Division is “Developing people who are rooted in caring and committed to learning”. Let’s not forget that we are rooted in caring.
